Introduction

Who provides insurance to UniSuper members?

External insurance cover is provided to UniSuper Accumulation 1, Accumulation 2, Defined Benefit Division (DBD) and Personal Account members through group insurance policies the Trustee has taken out with TAL Life Limited, ABN 70 050 109 450, AFSL No. 237848 (referred to as our ‘Insurer’ throughout this document).

This document describes the main features of insurance cover provided by our Insurer including a summary of the key terms and conditions and eligibility criteria. You can obtain a copy of the group insurance policies by calling us on 1800 331 685.

The full terms and conditions contained in the insurance policies prevail over any inconsistent information in this document.

Important definitions

The terms which appear in italics are defined in the policy documents. We’ve included some of the more commonly used terms in the ‘Definitions’ section at the end of this booklet.

Who should read this booklet?

This booklet provides detailed information about the insurance options available to eligible:

- Accumulation 1 members,
- Accumulation 2 members,
- Personal Account members, and
- Defined Benefit Division (DBD) members.

This document only includes limited information about inbuilt benefits provided to DBD members. For more information about inbuilt benefits provided to DBD members, which are self-insured by UniSuper, please refer to the Defined Benefit Division and Accumulation 2 (PDS) and the More about the DBD and Accumulation 2 booklet, available at unisuper.com.au/pds.

Making insurance in super opt-in

From 1 October 2019, it’s proposed that insurance within super will change. Currently, we provide you with default insurance from which you may opt out. Under the proposal, you’ll need to opt in to death and TPD insurance if you:

- have a balance of less than $6,000, or
- are under 25.

The proposal does not apply to defined benefit members.

What this means

The Government hopes that this measure will allow members’ balances to grow faster, and protect people with low balances. This measure forms part of the Government’s Putting Members’ Interests First Bill. It’s yet to be considered by Parliament.
Types of cover

Types of cover available

The insurance cover available to eligible UniSuper members is:

- Death-only cover,
- Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD)- only cover,
- Death and TPD cover, and
- Income Protection cover (not available to DBD members).

Note that DBD members are generally eligible for inbuilt benefits (self-insured by UniSuper) that provide an income stream in the event of disablement and temporary incapacity.

DEATH COVER (INCLUDING TERMINAL ILLNESS COVER)

Offered as unitised and fixed cover

Death cover provides a lump sum payment in the event of your death or if you’re diagnosed with a terminal illness. Your beneficiaries and/or your estate will receive your sum insured benefit if you die. You’ll receive an insured terminal illness benefit if you’re diagnosed with a terminal illness and satisfy any other applicable criteria.

There’s no limit on the amount of Death cover that you can apply for.

Your terminal illness benefit aligns with your Death cover subject to the applicable maximum cover limit of $3 million. If a terminal illness benefit is paid and the Death cover is higher, the remaining Death benefit is payable on death.

Death cover ceases at age 75.

TPD COVER

Offered as unitised and fixed cover

TPD cover provides a lump sum payment in the event that, due to an illness or injury, you become totally and permanently disabled and you satisfy any other applicable criteria.

The maximum amount of TPD cover you can apply for is $3 million.

TPD cover ceases at age 70.

INCOME PROTECTION COVER

Offered as unitised cover

Not available to DBD members

Income Protection cover gives you a monthly benefit for a benefit period applicable to your cover in the event you’re assessed as temporarily unable to do your job because you suffer from a disability.

The maximum amount of cover you can apply for is 69 units or $29,900 per month.

Income Protection cover ceases at age 65.

PLEASE NOTE

Restrictions, exclusions, terms and conditions may apply to all types of cover, including default and additional default cover. In order to be eligible for cover you must satisfy certain policy terms and conditions—please see page 5 for more information.
How we refer to cover

DEFAULT COVER - DEATH AND TPD

Default cover is Death and TPD insurance cover you receive from our Insurer when you first become a member of UniSuper (provided you meet the eligibility criteria) and you don’t need to go through any underwriting.

Default cover for members over age 70 and below age 75 is one unit of Death-only cover. Members aged 75 and over aren’t eligible for cover.

You can opt out of default cover or choose to reduce your Death and TPD cover to Death-only or TPD-only cover by completing the Changing your insurance cover form available from the ‘Forms and documents’ section of our website, by logging in to your account at unisuper.com.au or by writing to us. However, if you wish to take up cover at a later date, you’ll need to provide evidence of your health and have it accepted by our Insurer.

Read the What happens to your inbuilt benefits if you choose Accumulation 2? booklet for more information, available on our website.

Please Note

TPD cover ceases when you reach age 70. If you’re aged 70-74, you may be eligible for 1 unit of Death-only cover when you join UniSuper. Death or terminal illness cover ceases at age 75.

ADDITIONAL DEFAULT COVER

If you’re eligible for default cover, you can apply to increase the amount of Death and TPD insurance cover by up to two additional units without providing evidence of your health to our Insurer.

MEMBER TYPE | ELIGIBILITY
---|---
DBD, Accumulation 1 & Accumulation 2 | Can apply for additional default cover within 180 days of being first eligible to join the fund.
Personal Account | Can apply for additional default cover within 180 days of the date you joined the fund.

Premiums charged for additional default cover will be backdated to the date your default cover commences.

If you choose to change your default Death and TPD cover to Death-only or TPD-only cover when you join UniSuper, any additional default cover will also be Death-only or TPD-only cover as applicable.

You can apply by completing the relevant section on the application form for your membership category or the Application for additional default insurance form, available at unisuper.com.au/forms.

ADDITIONAL COVER

Additional cover refers to any insurance you apply for and go through underwriting (i.e. provide health evidence to our Insurer). You can apply for and purchase additional cover if you’re not eligible for default cover or would like to increase your levels of cover.
How Death and TPD cover is provided

Death and TPD cover is provided as unitised cover by default but you can choose to convert it to fixed cover. You can’t have a combination of both fixed and unitised Death and/or TPD insurance. Here’s how both options work.

UNITISED COVER

Unitised cover means the cost of each unit of cover stays the same over time but the amount of cover you get for each unit reduces as you get older. The table below shows the amount of Death and TPD cover provided by one unit of cover, depending on your age next birthday.

† If Death-only cover is selected, the amount of insured benefit per unit of Death-only cover is the same as for Death and TPD in the table, however, there’s no cover for TPD where Death-only cover is selected. Conversely, there is no Death cover when TPD-only is selected.

The cost of unitised cover (premium tables) can be found on page 26.

UNITISED COVER: An example

If you had one unit of Death and TPD cover and your age next birthday is 52, you’d be covered for a lump sum of $45,000, subject to meeting eligibility criteria and any cover restrictions which may apply.

FIXED COVER

Fixed cover means that the cost increases over time but the amount of insurance you get stays the same. You can convert your unitised Death and TPD cover to fixed cover at any time, provided you’re under age 61. Once you’ve converted to fixed cover, you’re not able to convert back to unitised cover. Fixed cover is offered in multiples of $1,000. All fixed cover will be rounded up to the nearest $1,000.

If you have fixed cover, while your death benefit does not change, your TPD sum insured will reduce annually from your 61st birthday as follows.

Opting out

You can opt-out of or decrease your insurance cover at any time by logging in to your account at unisuper.com.au or by writing to us. If you’d like to take up or increase cover at a later date, you’ll need to provide evidence of your health and have it accepted by our Insurer.

Eligibility requirements

To be eligible for insurance at UniSuper, you need to meet the following general eligibility requirements:

→ you’re a UniSuper member, and

→ you’re aged 15 at your next birthday and under the age cover ceases.

ADDITIONAL ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS YOU MUST MEET TO RECEIVE DEFAULT COVER ON JOINING UNISUPER

Death and TPD cover

You’re generally eligible to receive default Death and TPD cover or apply for additional default Death and/or TPD cover if you meet the general insurance eligibility requirements described above and the following criteria:

→ you’re under 75 years of age for Death cover, and under age 70 for TPD cover

→ you don’t join UniSuper as a result of a Family Law payment split under the Family Law Act 1975 (Cth), and

→ you’re not currently claiming for, or eligible to claim for, or have previously received an insured terminal illness or TPD benefit.

Your Death and TPD cover will be automatically transferred to Death-only cover when you turn 70 and your Death-only cover will cease when you turn 75.

Income Protection cover: an example

Peter has a salary of $80,000 p.a. and has 14 units of Income Protection cover. His 14 units of cover will provide a maximum monthly benefit of $6,066.67 (14 units x $100 x 52 weeks ÷ 12 months).

However, Peter’s monthly benefit would be limited to $5,666.67 ($80,000 x 85% ÷ 12 months) as his benefit cannot exceed 85% of his pre-disability income.

Peter’s $5,666.67 monthly benefit, including his super contribution, would be made up of the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>INCOME</th>
<th>+ SUPER CONTRIBUTION</th>
<th>= TOTAL PAYMENT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

What insurance do you get automatically on joining UniSuper?

Default cover and additional default cover

DEATH AND TPD

Members who meet the eligibility criteria will receive default cover of one unit of Death and TPD cover.

Members eligible for default cover also have the option to elect additional default cover of up to another two units of Death and TPD cover.

If you opt out of default cover, you won’t be able to choose additional default cover. Instead, you’ll have to apply for cover and provide health evidence that satisfies our Insurer.

Defined Benefit Division (DBD) members electing contribution flexibility

If you join UniSuper as a DBD member and choose to reduce your standard contributions under our contribution flexibility arrangements, you can receive default and additional default cover, but you must satisfy the following:

→ you need to elect on the application form to receive default cover (your application form must be received by UniSuper via your employer within 60 days of joining)
→ we must receive a contribution into your accumulation component within 120 days of you joining.

You’ll need to ensure your accumulation component has a sufficient balance from which insurance premiums can be deducted. See the Defined Benefit Division and Accumulation 2 PDS for information on contribution flexibility.

When your cover commences and when you can elect additional default cover (up to another two units of Death & TPD cover):

Any Income Protection cover applied for without underwriting will have a waiting period of 90 days and a benefit period of two years.

You can apply to change your waiting period to 30 or 60 days, or apply to change the benefit period to five years or to age 65, but you’ll need to go through underwriting. The waiting period and benefit period you select will determine your premium. See the Income Protection cover premium tables on page 26.

Transferring between member categories

If you’re a DBD member considering transferring to Accumulation 2 within your first 24 months of membership, it’s important that you read the What happens to your inbuilt benefits if you choose Accumulation 2? booklet available from unisuper.com.au/pds. Any cover you already have will count toward your transitional cover automatic acceptance limit. A pre-existing condition exclusion will apply to some or all of your transitioned cover.

Accumulation 2 members who transfer from the DBD generally receive Income Protection cover.

Note that DBD members aren’t able to access Income Protection cover. DBD members are generally provided with inbuilt benefits. Refer to the Defined Benefit Division and Accumulation 2 PDS for details.

PLEASE NOTE

The cover you receive by default may have restrictions or exclusions imposed. See page 16 for more information.
When else could you get cover?

APPLYING FOR COVER WHICH REQUIRES HEALTH EVIDENCE (UNDERWRITING)

Default and additional default cover may not provide you with enough cover to suit your own personal situation. That’s why we offer you the ability to apply for increased levels of cover to better protect yourself and your family.

If you’d like to increase your level of Death, TPD or Income Protection cover, your application must be assessed by our Insurer. Our Insurer will also need to assess changes to your Income Protection cover that involve decreasing your waiting period or increasing your benefit period.

All applications for additional insurance cover are subject to acceptance by our Insurer. Our Insurer has the ability to accept, decline or impose restrictions, exclusions and/or loadings on the insurance premiums. If our Insurer accepts your application after assessing your eligibility for cover subject to restrictions, exclusions and/or loadings on the insurance premiums, these conditions will apply immediately from the date cover commences and we’ll notify you in writing.

Cover generally commences on the date our Insurer accepts your application for cover.

INTERIM ACCIDENT COVER

While your application for additional cover is being assessed, interim accident cover will be provided if you meet certain conditions.

Your duty of disclosure

Before you enter into a life insurance contract, you have a duty to tell our Insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, which may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until our Insurer agrees to insure you. You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

You do not need to tell our Insurer anything that:
- reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- they know or should know as an Insurer; or
- they waive your duty to tell them about.

IF YOU DO NOT TELL OUR INSURER SOMETHING

In exercising the following rights, our Insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of life insurance. If they do, they may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell our Insurer anything you are required to, and they would not have insured you if you had told them, they may avoid the contract within three years of entering into it.

If our Insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, they may, at any time, reduce the amount you have been insured for. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told them everything you should have. However, if the contract has a surrender value, our Insurer may only exercise this right within three years of entering into the contract.

If our Insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount you have been insured for, they may, at any time, vary the contract in a way that places them in the same position they would have been in if you had told them everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.

If your failure to tell our Insurer is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.
Death and TPD

Interim accident cover will be provided if you die or suffer TPD as a result of an accident (accidental injury causing death or TPD through visible, violent, external event to the body). The interim accident cover provided will be the lesser of:

- the amount of cover you’re applying for, or
- $2,000,000 less the amount of any insured cover you already have under the policy.

Whether you’re covered for interim accident cover for Death and TPD, Death-only or TPD-only cover will depend on the type of cover you’ve applied for and are eligible to receive. Interim accident cover starts when UniSuper receives your application form and will cease on the earlier of 120 days from the date you applied for additional cover, or on the date your application is accepted, declined, withdrawn, or the date the interim accident cover is cancelled by our Insurer.

Income Protection

Interim accident cover will be provided if you suffer total disability as a result of an accident occurring during the interim accident cover period. If this happens, you’ll receive a monthly benefit of up to 85% of your pre-disability income equal to the lesser of:

- the units of cover you’ve applied for
- $15,000 per month less any amount payable for the same event under another condition of the policy.

Your interim accident cover period starts when we receive your application for additional cover and ceases on the earlier of 120 days from the date you applied for additional cover, the date your application is accepted, declined, withdrawn or the date the interim accident cover is cancelled by our Insurer.

There is no interim accident cover if you suffer a partial disability during this period. The interim accident benefit will continue to be paid until the earlier of the date you cease to be disabled, expiration of the applicable benefit period, you reach age 65, or you die.

Transferring between membership categories

There are circumstances where your membership category can change. For example, you may be a DBD member and choose to transfer to Accumulation 2, or your employment situation may change (i.e. you move from being a contractor to a permanent employee or vice versa), thereby automatically changing your membership category.

Depending on which membership category you transfer to and from, your insurance may stay the same or it may change. This section provides an overview of what happens to your insurance.

When you transfer between membership categories, you’ll generally keep any existing insurance cover you have with the same restrictions, loadings and exclusions, provided you continue to meet the eligibility requirements and other criteria.

The table on page 11 illustrates how cover changes when you transfer between membership categories.

Where transitioned cover is provided to a member with existing fixed insurance cover, the transitioned cover will also be fixed, rounded up to the next $1,000.

If you’re an Accumulation 1 member...

- ...and previously transferred from the DBD to Accumulation 2, you may be transferred back to Accumulation 2 if your employment circumstances change.

- ...who had Income Protection cover and you transferred back to Accumulation 2, you can choose to keep this cover, provided you notify us in writing within 90 days of becoming an Accumulation 2 member. If you don’t make an election, you’ll automatically receive transitioned Income Protection cover.

Members transferring from the DBD to Accumulation 2 should read the What happens to your inbuilt benefits if you choose Accumulation 2? booklet, available at unisuper.com.au/pds, for details about how inbuilt benefits are transitioned to external cover including the restrictions, terms and conditions that may apply.

WHAT INSURANCE DO YOU GET AUTOMATICALLY ON JOINING UNISUPER?

THINGS TO CONSIDER WHEN TRANSITIONING INCOME PROTECTION COVER

When deciding whether to elect to retain your existing Income Protection cover, you should consider the restrictions or loading or exclusions that apply to both your existing Income Protection cover and the transitioned Income Protection cover. For information on the restrictions and exclusions relating to transitioned cover, refer to the What happens to your inbuilt benefits if you choose Accumulation 2? booklet, available at unisuper.com.au/pds.

TRANSFERRING COVER FROM ANOTHER FUND

If you have cover with another super fund or cover with another insurer and you’re less than age 61, then you may be able to transfer this cover to us provided you meet all of the following conditions:

1. you transfer your whole super balance from your other super fund to us,
2. you cancel the insurance cover from your other super fund (or another insurer), not exercise a continuation option, or reinstatement option (now or in the future) or transfer the cover to another super fund
3. your cover with the other super fund mustn’t have been subject to any loadings, restrictions or exclusions regarding to medical or other conditions
4. you’ve provided satisfactory evidence to us about the type, amount of cover, waiting period and benefit period regarding Income Protection cover which applied to you under the cover you have with your other fund
5. you’ve completed, to our Insurer’s satisfaction, your application or provided other documents our Insurer requires
6. at the date of your application, regarding your Death and TPD cover:
   - you’ve never been paid or are eligible to be paid, or are currently in the process of submitting a claim for any illness or injury through a super fund, insurance policy, workers’ compensation, or government benefits (such as sickness benefit, invalid pension) providing terminal illness, total and permanent disablement or Income Protection cover, including accident or sickness cover
   - you’ve not been diagnosed with, or suffer from, an illness or injury that may cause permanent inability to work or which reduces or is likely to reduce your life expectancy to less than 12 months from the date of your application

Transitioned cover: an example

Vivian is aged 40, working full-time with a salary of $100,000 and has a service fraction of 100%. Vivian had an Accumulation 2 account, then transferred to Accumulation 1 when her employment conditions changed. Due to her employment circumstances changing again, she transferred back to Accumulation 2. She already has 12 units of Income Protection insurance cover with a 60-day waiting period and benefit period to age 65 from her Accumulation 1 membership. Her 12 units of Income Protection cover provide a monthly benefit of up to $5,200 per month.

The inbuilt death benefit she would have been eligible to receive as a DBD member is $420,000.

Each unit of Death and TPD cover at age 40 (age 41 next birthday) equals $149,000, so Vivian receives three units of Death and TPD cover:

420,000 ÷ 149,000 = 2.8 units, which is rounded up to three units.

Based on her salary, Vivian is provided with 17 units of transitioned Income Protection cover which provides a monthly benefit of up to $7,367 per month with the default benefit period of five years and a waiting period of 90 days. She can compare her transitioned cover with her existing cover but must let us know within 90 days if she’d like to retain her existing Income Protection cover rather than take up her transitioned cover.
Insurance in your super

WHAT INSURANCE DO YOU GET AUTOMATICALLY ON JOINING UNISUPER?

- you’ve never had an insurance application for Death, Total and Permanent Disablement, or Income Protection cover (including accident or sickness cover) declined, postponed or offered on non-standard or modified terms such as a loading and/or exclusion, including but not limited to pre-existing condition exclusions
- you’re not, at the date of this application, due to injury or illness, off work or restricted or unable to fully perform without limitation all of the duties of your current or usual occupation for at least 30 hours per week, even though your actual employment may be on a full-time, part-time or casual basis or you may be unemployed
- you’ve not, in the last 12 months been absent from work or unable to fully perform:
  i. the duties of your usual occupation (whether employed or unemployed); or
  ii. your unpaid domestic duties, if you’re unemployed and your sole occupation is the performance of unpaid domestic duties; due to illness or injury (other than cold or flu) for more than 10 days.

→ at the date of your application, regarding Income Protection cover:
  - you’ve not been diagnosed with, or suffer from, an illness that reduces your life expectancy to less than 12 months
  - you’re gainfully employed (or self-employed) and are capable of undertaking gainful employment for at least 30 hours per week
  - you’ve not received, haven’t been admitted for, and haven’t satisfied the requirements for a total and permanent disablement or terminal illness benefit from any super fund or life policy issued to a super fund or a life insurer, and
  - you’re not claiming or currently entitled to claim an Income Protection benefit from any super fund or life policy issued to a super fund or a life insurer

Any Death and TPD cover you transfer will be provided by UniSuper as fixed cover and will be rounded up to the nearest $1,000.

What happens to your existing cover?

Any existing unitised Death and TPD cover you have with UniSuper will also be converted to fixed cover. Once your cover is fixed, you can’t change it back to unitised cover. The total amount of cover transferred plus any existing cover can’t exceed the maximum cover limits.

You can apply to transfer your cover by logging in to your account or by completing the Transfer of insurance cover form, available from the ‘Forms and documents’ section of our website at unisuper.com.au/forms.

Subject to meeting all of the conditions set out in this section, the transferred cover will commence on the later of the following:
→ the date our Insurer accepts your application to transfer cover; and
→ the date of cancellation of your existing cover with the other super fund.

Your cover won’t commence if your account balance isn’t sufficient to pay the premiums for your cover.

DBD members can’t transfer Income Protection cover from another fund.
LIFE EVENTS COVER

UniSuper provides a process for you to top up your existing Death and TPD or Death-only or TPD-only insurance cover in the following circumstances:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LIFE EVENT</th>
<th>EVIDENCE REQUIRED WITHIN 90 DAYS OF THE EVENT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Purchasing a home for your permanent residence and taking out a mortgage on that residence</td>
<td>Certified mortgage documents</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Getting married</td>
<td>Certified marriage certificate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Giving birth to or adopting a child</td>
<td>Certified birth certificate or adoption papers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commencing a de facto relationship</td>
<td>Statutory declaration form</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Divorcing or terminating a de facto relationship</td>
<td>One of the following:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>→ for legal marriages, certified divorce orders</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>→ for de facto Statutory declaration form</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Death of a spouse including a de facto</td>
<td>Certified death certificate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dependent child starting tertiary education</td>
<td>Certified enrolment details or acceptance letter from school</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

You mustn’t have applied for Life Events cover for the same occurrence of the same life event. However, as an example, you can apply for Life Events cover when your first child starts tertiary education and apply once more when your second child starts tertiary education.

The amount of Life Events cover will be:

→ Unitised cover—one additional unit of the same type of cover

→ Fixed cover—the lesser of 25% of the existing level of cover, or $200,000.

ARE THERE ANY RESTRICTIONS ON LIFE EVENTS COVER?

If you make a claim within the first six months of the date your increased cover commences under Life Events cover, the Life Events portion of your benefit will only be payable if the claim is the result of an ‘Accident’ (which means accidental injury causing death or TPD through a visible, violent, external event to the body).

HOW TO APPLY

If you want to apply for Life Events cover, please read the Life Events and Salary Increase cover fact sheet and complete the form available at unisuper.com.au/forms.

If your application for Life Events cover is successful, the additional cover will be added to your existing Death and/or TPD insurance cover and will commence on the date our Insurer notifies us in writing that it has agreed to provide cover.

Income Protection automatic update
(Accumulation 2 members only)

In the event of a salary increase, our automatic update option can help you to ensure you have enough units of Income Protection cover to provide you with up to 85% of your salary in the event of illness or injury.

Conversely, if you decide to work fewer hours, you might decide to reduce your cover so that you’re not over-insured and paying for cover you don’t need.
Insurance in your super

WHAT INSURANCE DO YOU GET AUTOMATICALLY ON JOINING UNISUPER?

Subject to you meeting certain eligibility requirements, we’ll automatically update your Income Protection cover every six months to ensure that cover is kept up-to-date.

If your Income Protection cover is automatically updated, your cover will be based on the salary and hours worked that your UniSuper employer has reported to us on the date the cover is updated. It’s important to be aware that your updated cover may not meet your income needs. If you have multiple sources of income (e.g. you have other jobs), make sure you regularly check your total income and cover to ensure you’re adequately insured.

It’s also important to be aware that if you don’t opt out of automatic updates, any reduction in your salary and hours worked (that your UniSuper employer has reported to us) will flow through and decrease your Income Protection cover when your cover is automatically updated.

If you don’t want us to automatically update your cover, you can opt out of this process by logging in to your account or completing the Changing your insurance cover form, available at unisuper.com.au/forms.

Automatic updates will never increase your cover above the Automatic Acceptance Limit (AAL) of 34 units, but may decrease your cover to the AAL of 34 units which may leave you underinsured.

Any changes you make to your cover means you’ll no longer receive automatic Income Protection cover updates.

Automatic updates won’t occur in the following circumstances:

- within six months of receiving Salary Increase cover
- if your cover is subject to loadings or exclusions (other than a pre-existing condition (PEC) exclusion)
- if you’re on claim or entitled to a claim under the policy
- if you’re no longer an Accumulation 2 member
- if you don’t already have Income Protection cover
- if you’ve previously had an application to increase your Income Protection cover declined
- if you’re not in active employment; or
- if the automatic update would increase your cover above the automatic acceptance limit.

SALARY INCREASE COVER

If you receive an increase in salary, you may apply to increase your Income Protection cover by one unit with limited underwriting (outside the six-monthly automatic update for Accumulation 2 members – see the previous section), subject to the maximum cover limit. This is known as Salary Increase cover. You’ll be eligible for Salary Increase cover without having to provide evidence of your health if:

- you’re in active employment on the date of application
- you already have Income Protection cover on the date of your application
- you’re under age 55 on the application date
- your cover isn’t subject to any special conditions such as premium loadings, restrictions or exclusions (other than a pre-existing condition (PEC) exclusion)
- you’ve not previously had an application to increase your Income Protection cover declined
- you’ve not applied for Salary Increase cover in the previous 12 months
- we receive your completed application form for Salary Increase cover within 90 days of your salary increase occurring; and
- you provide us with evidence of your salary increase.

Salary Increase cover will commence if and when your application is accepted by our Insurer.

If a claim arises within the first six months of your Salary Increase cover, you’ll only receive a benefit for the Salary Increase cover amount if the claim is as a result of an accident.
Exclusions and special conditions

Exclusions and special conditions for Death-only, TPD-only and Death and TPD cover

In addition to the pre-existing condition (PEC) exclusion (refer to page 17), the following exclusions and special conditions apply to your Death and TPD, Death-only cover, or TPD-only cover.

WAR-RELATED EVENTS

No benefit is payable for additional cover or interim accident cover where your death, terminal illness or TPD is directly or indirectly caused by war (whether declared or not) or war-like operation or civil commotion.

SELF-INFLICTED INJURY, INFECTION OR ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

No benefit is payable for additional cover or interim accident cover where death, terminal illness or TPD is caused by self-inflicted injury, self-inflicted infection or attempted suicide.

IF YOU’RE OVERSEAS

Death and/or TPD cover will continue to be provided while you’re overseas, subject to the following conditions:

→ your cover hasn’t ceased under the policy
→ you remain a member of UniSuper, and
→ the continued payment of premiums.

Exclusions and special conditions for Income Protection cover

In addition to the pre-existing condition exclusion (refer to page 17), the following exclusions and special conditions apply to your Income Protection cover.

No Income Protection benefit will be payable if the injury or illness is caused directly or indirectly by one of the following:

→ self-inflicted harm or attempted suicide, regardless of whether you were sane or insane at the time
→ normal and uncomplicated pregnancy or childbirth. For the purposes of this exclusion, multiple pregnancy, threatened or actual miscarriage, participation in an IVF or similar program, discomfort commonly associated with pregnancy, such as morning sickness, backache, varicose veins, ankle swelling or bladder problems aren’t considered to be abnormal or complications of pregnancy
→ engaging in an excluded occupation that our Insurer does not cover (where our Insurer has not given prior approval) – refer to page 17
→ your participation in a criminal act
→ service in the armed forces (excluding the Australian Defence Force Reserve)
→ active participation in militant activities
→ war (whether declared or not), revolution, invasion, rebellion or civil unrest, or → pandemic illness, subject to our Insurer providing us with at least 14 days’ prior notice.
Excluded occupations are:

- air traffic controller
- earth drilling, mineral exploration, miner or person working with explosives
- professional entertainer such as actor, dancer, musician and stage performer
- fireman, police, ambulance officer and paramedic
- fisherman
- forestry worker
- sex worker
- workers in the horse racing industry such as trainer, jockey and strapper
- workers whose work requires them to work at heights such as rigger, scaffold, roof worker and antenna erector
- offshore oil rig worker
- commercial pilot
- professional and semi-professional sport person
- security guards (other than unarmed security guards), doormen, bouncers and persons employed in crowd control
- sheltered workshop employee
- seasonal worker or employees in industries with casual workforce, and
- underground or underwater worker.

WORKING OVERSEAS

If you’re working overseas, Income Protection cover will continue to be provided while you’re overseas subject to the following conditions:

- your cover hasn’t ceased under the policy
- you continue to be employed by your employer
- you continue to be a member of UniSuper, and
- the continued payment of premiums.

Income Protection benefits will only be paid for a maximum of six months while you’re overseas, unless otherwise agreed between us and our Insurer. You must return to Australia at your own expense for Income Protection benefits to continue.

Employer approved leave for Death-only, TPD-only, Death and TPD, and Income Protection

If you take employer-approved leave, your cover will continue to be provided to you, subject to the following conditions:

- you had insured cover immediately prior to commencement of your leave and your cover hasn’t ended under the policy
- the leave has been approved by your employer
- you continue to be employed by your employer and remain a UniSuper member, and
- the continued payment of premiums.

Note that periods of leave without pay can impact your Income Protection benefit—if you have no pre-disability income, no Income Protection benefit is payable.

If your Income Protection cover ceases, you’ll need to re-apply (and provide health evidence to our Insurer) on your return to work.

Pre-existing condition (PEC) exclusions

The PEC exclusion means that if you had an illness or injury which was pre-existing prior to the cover commencing, you won’t be covered for that illness or injury until the PEC exclusion is removed. PEC exclusions apply for a pre-defined period, up to five years, depending on how you get the cover. This is also referred to as a ‘PEC period’.

If you’re not in active employment at the end of the PEC period, the PEC period will continue to apply until you’ve returned to active employment for two consecutive months.

PEC EXCLUSION ON TRANSITIONED COVER

A PEC exclusion period will apply to some or all of your cover if you receive cover on transferring to an Accumulation 2 account from either the DBD or an Accumulation 1 account.
Accumulation 1 members returning to Accumulation 2
If you’re an Accumulation 1 member returning to Accumulation 2 and you receive transitioned cover, a three-year PEC period will generally apply to your transitioned Death, TPD and Income Protection cover from the date you transfer.

PEC EXCLUSION FOR PERSONAL ACCOUNT MEMBERS
For Personal Account members, a five-year PEC period will apply to your default and additional default Death, TPD and Income Protection cover.

WHEN ELSE MAY A PEC EXCLUSION APPLY?
For members other than Personal Account members, a 12-month PEC period will apply to TPD cover where:
→ you meet the eligibility requirements for default cover, however, we don’t receive an employer contribution within 180 days of you being first eligible to join → you apply for additional default cover and – we don’t receive an employer contribution within 180 days of you being first eligible to join, or – you’re not in active employment when cover commences.

If a PEC exclusion applies and you’re not in active employment at the end of the 12-month PEC period, the PEC exclusion will continue to apply until you’ve been in active employment for two consecutive months.

For Accumulation 1 members, a 12-month PEC period will apply to Income Protection cover provided without providing evidence of your health to our Insurer (refer page 6) where you’re not in active employment on the date that your cover commences.

A PEC exclusion can be removed at any time subject to the completion of medical evidence and acceptance by our Insurer or will cease to apply if you apply for additional cover requiring health evidence and it’s accepted by our Insurer without any individual conditions, exclusions, restrictions or loadings.

Waiting periods
Waiting periods refer to the time period in which you’re unable to work due to illness or injury and meet the required policy definition before your insurance claim can be assessed.

DEATH CLAIMS
If you had Death cover at the date of your death, the insured benefit will be paid to your beneficiaries and/or your legal personal representative as a lump sum. No waiting period applies to Death or terminal illness claims.

TPD CLAIMS
If you’re eligible, generally a six-month waiting period applies, but this is waived if:
(a) you have cancer, chronic renal failure, coronary artery bypass surgery, heart attack, stroke, transient ischaemic attacks, chronic liver or lung disease, major head trauma, severe burns or total deafness or blindness as defined in the policy
(b) you suffer Whole Person Impairment within the meaning of the policy
(c) for members who commence cover on or after 1 July 2014, your TPD is caused by the permanent loss of the use of two limbs; the total sight in both eyes; or the use of one limb and the total sight of one eye.

We’ll also waive this six-month waiting period if your cover has ceased after the date of disablement but prior to having ceased gainful employment (or being absent from performing domestic duties) for a period of six consecutive months and:
(a) you’re less than 65 years of age and gainfully employed (or performing domestic duties) immediately prior to the date of disablement, and
(b) you’ve not performed any form of gainful employment (or domestic duties) whatsoever since the cessation of cover.

INCOME PROTECTION CLAIMS
The default waiting period for Income Protection cover is 90 days, however, you can choose to elect a waiting period of 30 or 60 days. The waiting period you select will determine your premium. See the Income Protection cover premium tables on page 26. If you choose to decrease the waiting period applicable to your cover, you must complete an application form and satisfy our Insurer’s health evidence and eligibility requirements.
The waiting period commences on the date you first receive medical advice from a doctor about your injury or illness and the doctor certified on that day that you’re disabled.

At the end of the waiting period, a benefit will be paid monthly in arrears, providing you still meet the required disability definition.

Additional benefit
Where you suffer one of the specific illnesses listed below during the waiting period, you’ll also be entitled to an amount equal to one times your monthly insured benefit during the waiting period (known as a ‘specific illness benefit’). These specific illnesses are:

- cancer
- chronic liver disease
- chronic lung disease
- chronic renal failure
- coronary artery bypass surgery
- heart attack
- major head trauma
- severe burns
- stroke
- total blindness
- total deafness or
- transient ischaemic attacks.

Each specific illness is defined in the policy.

WHAT IF YOU RETURN TO WORK DURING THE WAITING PERIOD?

If you return to work during your waiting period and the attempted return to work proves unsuccessful because of the illness or injury causing disability, the waiting period will continue as though there was no return to work as long as you don’t return to work for nine consecutive working days during the waiting period. If the return to work is for nine or more consecutive days, then the waiting period will recommence.

If you return to partial work, or are capable of doing so, after 14 consecutive days of suffering total disability, a partial disability benefit may be payable once the waiting period has ended, provided you meet the criteria listed in the definition.

Maximum cover levels

DEATH AND TPD
There’s no limit to the amount of Death cover you can apply for. The maximum amount of TPD cover you can apply for is $3 million. The maximum amount of terminal illness cover you can claim is $3 million. If the terminal illness benefit paid out is less than your death benefit, your dependents and/or estate will receive the remainder of your Death cover in the event of your death, subject to the premiums continuing to be paid for the remainder of the Death cover.

INCOME PROTECTION
The maximum amount of Income Protection cover you can apply for is 69 units or $29,900 per month.

The maximum period an Income Protection benefit can be paid is the lesser of the benefit period that applies to you (if you’ve elected a two year or a five year benefit period) and to age 65. The minimum monthly benefit period that can be insured is one unit which equals $433 per month or $100 per week.

Where your selected level of Income Protection is less than 85% of your salary, your selected level of Income Protection cover will apply. If 85% of your salary is less than your selected level of Income Protection Cover, the maximum benefit payable will be 85% of your salary. The portion above 75% (up to 85%) is payable as an employer super contribution.
Ceasing insurance

Not receiving regular contributions?

Your insurance will be automatically cancelled if your account hasn’t received a contribution or a rollover (from transferring your super to UniSuper from another fund) for 16 consecutive months. We’ll contact you if you’re at risk of this happening.

You can prevent your insurance from being cancelled by making regular contributions, or by instructing us to continue your insurance by completing the Electing to keep your insurance form available at unisuper.com.au/forms.

If your cover is cancelled and you want cover in the future, you’ll need to apply for cover and provide evidence of your health that satisfies our Insurer.

Reducing and opting out

You can reduce or opt out of your cover at any time. The change to your cover will take effect from the later of the date we (or our Insurer) receive notice, either through your online account or in writing.

To reduce or opt out of your cover, log in to your online account or complete the Changing your insurance cover form available at unisuper.com.au/forms.

You can also opt out of ever having default insurance cover automatically applied to your account again (provided your member number doesn’t change). You’ll still be able to apply for cover in the future by logging in to your account or by completing an application form, although you’ll be required to provide health evidence and have it accepted by our Insurer.

To opt out of having cover automatically applied to your account in future (i.e. if your UniSuper account closes and you rejoin at a later date with the same member number), complete the Changing your insurance cover form available at unisuper.com.au/forms.

DBD members cannot opt out of inbuilt benefits.

When else does cover cease?

Insurance cover will cease on the earliest of any of these events:

- you cease to be a UniSuper member
- you cease to satisfy the eligibility conditions
- you reach the cover cessation age
- your account has insufficient funds to pay the insurance premiums
- you join the armed forces of any country (the Australian Defence Force Reserve is excluded for this purpose)
- you cease to satisfy the relevant conditions for continuation of cover while on employer approved leave
- we terminate the policy with our Insurer, or
- you die.

DEATH AND TPD

In addition to the above, Death and TPD cover ceases on the earliest of the following circumstances:

- our Insurer admits your claim for a benefit, (unless it’s a claim for a terminal illness or TPD benefit and you continue to be covered for a residual death benefit)
- you reach age 70 for TPD cover, or
- you reach age 75 for Death (including terminal illness) cover.

INCOME PROTECTION

In addition to the above, Income Protection cover ceases in the following circumstances:

- you permanently retire from the workforce
- you’ve received Income Protection benefits for the full benefit period applicable to your Income Protection cover, or
- you reach age 65.

Even if your cover has ceased, in some circumstances, you may still be entitled to a benefit if the date of your illness or injury occurred before the date cover ceased and you were a UniSuper member.

If you permanently retire from the workforce, Income Protection will no longer cover you. Let us know when you’ve permanently retired as we’ll continue to deduct insurance premiums unless you advise us.
How to make a claim

You must notify us as soon as reasonably possible of any claim or potential claim. To make a claim, you or your beneficiaries can call us on 1800 825 246. You’ll also find some useful information at unisuper.com.au/claims. Any information required by our Insurer to assess the claim will also need to be provided, some of which will need to be provided at your own cost.

If you or your beneficiaries don’t agree with our Insurer’s claim decision, you can ask for it to be reviewed by the Trustee. You can do this by contacting us on 1800 825 246 or writing to:

UniSuper Claims Department
Level 1, 385 Bourke Street
Melbourne VIC 3000

If your claim is approved by our Insurer, the insurance proceeds will be paid to us and released to you if you’ve satisfied a condition of release.

If you have a terminal medical condition

If you have a terminal medical condition, you may be eligible to access your super early if you get certification from two medical specialists that you have less than 24 months to live.

The certification period for UniSuper’s insured benefits—including inbuilt terminal medical condition benefits (DBD members only) and externally insured terminal illness benefits—requires certification from two medical specialists stipulating you have less than 12 months to live.

There could be significant consequences to accessing your super early, including forfeiting your eligibility for insured benefits through your UniSuper membership. Please call 1800 825 246 and we can take you through your options.

Does cover continue if you make a claim?

If a death benefit is paid, all cover ceases. If you lodge a claim for terminal illness benefit, you cease to be eligible for TPD cover (if applicable). If you’ve received a terminal illness benefit and you die, your beneficiaries may be able to claim a residual death benefit amount if the Death cover exceeds the terminal illness amount paid. If you’ve ever received a terminal illness benefit, you’ll be ineligible to apply for Death and TPD insurance cover.

If you lodge a TPD claim and it’s paid, your Death cover will generally cease if your TPD cover was equal to, or more than, your Death cover. However, if your TPD cover is less than your Death cover, Death cover will continue for an amount equal to your Death cover less your TPD cover, in the event that a TPD benefit is paid. If you subsequently return to work and would like to apply for Death and TPD cover again, you’ll need to complete an application form and provide health evidence to our Insurer. If you’ve received a TPD benefit previously, you’ll only be eligible for Death-only cover.

All cover will cease for Income Protection if you’ve received Income Protection benefits for the benefit period applicable to your insurance cover.

PLEASE NOTE

Before you apply for the early release of your funds due to a terminal medical condition, we encourage you to read the Terminal medical condition benefit fact sheet available at unisuper.com.au/forms and call us on 1800 825 246 to discuss your options.
How and when your benefit is paid

We can only pay an insured benefit once our Insurer has accepted the claim, the insurance proceeds have been received from our Insurer, and you’ve met a relevant condition of release.

Death and TPD

If the claim is approved by our Insurer, the insurance proceeds will be paid to us and released to you if you’ve satisfied a relevant condition of release.

Income Protection

If your claim is accepted, your insured benefit will be paid monthly in arrears for your benefit period—as long as you remain totally disabled or partially disabled as applicable.

If you make a claim and it’s accepted, you’ll receive a monthly benefit that is the lesser of:

→ the amount represented by the number of units our Insurer last accepted for you

→ 85% of your monthly pre-disability income (with up to 10% of your monthly pre-disability income to be paid as a super contribution).

A partial monthly benefit may be payable if you’re totally disabled for a period of 14 consecutive days during your waiting period, you’re unable to return to performing all of the duties of your usual occupation and you’re partially disabled immediately after the expiration of your waiting period, and provided you meet the criteria listed in the definition of partial disability.

In cases where total disability or partial disability benefits have been paid for more than 12 continuous months, Income Protection benefits are indexed every 12 months by the lesser of the annual Consumer Price Index and 7.5%.

If you’re receiving a total disability or partial disability benefit and you die, our Insurer will pay a lump sum benefit of $10,000 when our Insurer has been provided with evidence to its satisfaction.

Our Insurer may agree to pay a rehabilitation expense benefit in addition to benefits otherwise provided. Prior approval is required from our Insurer in these circumstances. The maximum rehabilitation expense benefit that may be paid for any one disability claim is the lesser of four times your monthly benefit and $100,000, less the amount of any rehabilitation expense for which you’re entitled to reimbursement from another source. This amount may be paid in addition to a total disability or partial disability benefit.

A pro-rata insured benefit will be paid if a benefit is payable for less than a whole month.

The insured benefit is paid monthly in arrears to your nominated financial institution account. The employer super contribution of up to 10% will be paid into your UniSuper account.

If you’re partially disabled, you’ll receive a portion of the monthly benefit that takes into account any income you’re earning.

PAYG tax will be deducted from each monthly benefit payment.
REDUCED INCOME PROTECTION BENEFIT

Your monthly benefit payment will be reduced by any other income earned (whether it’s received or not) while receiving a benefit and any other disability income payments that you or your employer receive on your behalf.

In addition, any lump sum payment in lieu of other disability income (such as workers’ compensation payments, motor accident and income replacement benefits) will offset your Income Protection payment by 1/60th of the lump sum per month over a 60-month period, or when your Income Protection benefit period ends, whichever is the shorter.

For example, if you receive a $120,000 workers’ compensation payment as a lump sum and also claim an Income Protection benefit through our Insurer, your monthly Income Protection payment will be reduced by $2,000 per month (i.e. 1/60th of the $120,000 lump sum).

Income earned from investments (for example, dividends and interest earned on savings accounts), income earned from super benefits, and annual leave, sick leave or long service leave entitlements won’t reduce payments.

A monthly benefit won’t be paid if your other disability income exceeds 75% of your monthly pre-disability income.

WHEN WILL MY INCOME PROTECTION BENEFIT BE PAID?

Your first disability payment is effective from the day after your waiting period ends. As insured benefit payments are made in arrears, you won’t receive your first payment for up to a month after the effective date and our Insurer has completed their required assessment.

WILL I RECEIVE AN INSURED BENEFIT IF MY DISABILITY RECURS?

If you’ve been receiving a total disability or partial disability insured benefit and you return to your full pre-disability duties, but within six months of the claim ending as a result of commencing your pre-disability duties the same disability recurs, it will be considered to be a continuation of your earlier claim (provided you still have Income Protection insurance cover in place).

The applicable waiting period won’t apply and the insured benefit period will be reduced by the number of days you were paid under the earlier claim.
Insurance premiums

By obtaining insurance through your super, insurance premiums are deducted directly from your accumulation account balance each month, so you don’t have to budget for this cover from your take home pay.

The weekly costs for both fixed cover and unitised cover are deducted from your account monthly in arrears. The number of weeks in the month is based on the number of Fridays in the month. Insurance premiums are not fixed and can be expected to change from time to time. We’ll inform you in writing of any changes to your cover, as required by law.

Death and TPD

If you select Death and TPD cover, the combined premium will be lower than the sum of the separate Death only and TPD only premiums rates. The premium rate will be calculated automatically when you have an equal level of Death and TPD cover, with any additional Death or TPD cover calculated at the Death-only or TPD-only rate as applicable. A discounted Death and TPD premium will apply whether you have fixed or unitised cover.

Unitised cover: an example

Amalia’s age next birthday is 39 and she has 1 unit of Death and TPD cover which gives her $181,000.

Amalia will be paying $1.85 per unit per week or $96.20 each year. The cover will change according to her age.

The premium is deducted from her accumulation account component. As we receive a tax deduction for this premium, a tax adjustment is credited back to her account, effectively reducing the amount she pays.

To view the amount of unitised cover you get based on your age next birthday, see page 4.

1 Premiums shown include stamp duty and an administration fee of 6% of the insurance premium charged to cover the costs associated with administering the insurance arrangements. The administration fee is inclusive of GST and any tax credits that are applicable to the Trustee. Please note, insurance premiums are not fixed and can be expected to change from time to time. Members will be given written notice of any changes.

(d) is an insured member who, immediately prior to 1 July 2014, was a member:
   i. with insured cover for TPD; or
   ii. in respect of whom the in-built self-insurance arrangements in the Fund applied in the event of disablement, whose insured cover for TPD has not been discontinued from the date of commencement of that cover, and in our Insurer’s opinion, solely because of illness or injury, has suffered the:
      1. permanent loss of the use of two limbs;
      2. permanent loss of total sight in both eyes; or
      3. permanent loss of the use of one limb and the permanent loss of total sight in an eye.

For the avoidance of doubt:
(a) paragraph (d)(ii) applies in respect of a member whose converted cover for TPD commences after 1 July 2014 who was, immediately prior to becoming entitled to converted cover for TPD, a member in respect of whom the in-built self-insurance arrangements in the Fund applied in the event of disablement prior to 1 July 2014;
(b) discontinuance of cover does not include a cessation of cover which is reinstated from the date of cessation.

Activities of daily living means:
- dressing – the ability to put on and take off clothing without assistance
- bathing – the ability to wash or shower without assistance
- toileting – the ability to use the toilet including getting on and off without assistance
- mobility – the ability to get in or out of bed and a chair without assistance
- feeding – the ability to get food from a plate into the mouth without assistance, where ‘assistance’ means the assistance of another person.

Date of disablement means the earlier of:
(a) in respect of an insured member to whom part (a)(i) of the TPD definition applies, the date on which the six consecutive month period of absence from gainful employment resulting in TPD began;
(b) in respect of an insured member to whom part (a)(ii) of the TPD definition applies, the date on which the six consecutive month period of ill-health began;
(c) in respect of an insured member to whom part (b) of the TPD definition applies, the date on which the insured member suffered from an inability to perform the Activities of Daily Living that results in TPD;
(d) in respect of an insured member to whom part (c) of the TPD definition applies, the date on which the six consecutive month period in which the insured member was unable to perform domestic duties and was not engaged in any gainful employment began;
(e) in respect of an insured member to whom:
   i. part (d) of the TPD definition; or (ii) condition 2.4.2(c) of the policy; applies:
      1. the date on which the insured member suffered the permanent loss of total sight in both eyes or the loss of use of two limbs or the permanent loss of total sight in one eye and loss of use of one limb; or
      2. the date the insured member suffered the permanent loss of total sight of an eye or loss of use of a limb, having already suffered the permanent loss of total sight of an eye or loss of use of a limb.
(f) in respect of an insured member to whom condition 2.4.1 of the policy applies, the date on which the insured member suffers ill-health that results in TPD;
(g) in respect of an insured member to whom condition 2.4.2 a) of the policy applies, the date on which the insured member suffers a specific illness; or
(h) in respect of an insured member to whom condition 2.4.2(b) of the policy applies, the date on which the insured member suffers at least 25% Whole Person Impairment

SECTION 13 — Member declaration and signature

Please read Your duty of disclosure and Your declaration before you sign and date your form.

Your duty of disclosure
Before you enter into a life insurance contract, you have a duty to tell our Insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until our Insurer agrees to insure you. You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

You do not need to tell the Insurer anything that:
• reduces the risk they insure you for, or
• is common knowledge, or
• they know or should know as an insurer, or
• they waive your duty to tell them about.

If you do not tell the Insurer something
In exercising the following rights, our Insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of life insurance. If they do, they may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell our Insurer anything you’re required to, and they would not have insured you if you had told them, they may avoid the contract within three years of entering into it.

If our Insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, they may, at any time, reduce the amount you’ve been insured for. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told them everything you should have. However, if the contract has a surrender value, or provides cover on death, our Insurer may only exercise this right within three years of entering into the contract.

If our Insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount you’ve been insured for, they may, at any time, vary the contract in a way that places them in the same position they would have been in if you had told them everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.

If your failure to tell our Insurer is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.
